

Sandy Newton is a faith-driven leader, seasoned professional, and dedicated servant to her parish and community. She earned her AAS degree from the Jacques Pépin Culinary School and went on to serve as an Executive Chef for 14 years, demonstrating excellence, discipline, and creativity in the culinary arts. Expanding her academic and professional foundation, Sandy also earned a Bachelor of Science in Business Management from Penn State University.

For the past 23 years, Sandy has worked in the Aerospace Engineering Department at The Boeing Company, where she supports both U.S. warfighters and executive fleets. Her work reflects a deep commitment to service, integrity, and excellence in support of those who serve our nation.

In addition to her professional achievements, Sandy faithfully serves on the Vestry as Senior Warden at St. Michael's, where her deep love for the parish and unwavering faith guide her leadership. She is driven by discernment and a heartfelt calling to help the needy and the poor, cultivating compassion and fostering environments where all people feel welcomed, respected, and valued. Sandy emphasizes equality and the sharing of God's love in both word and action.

As her faith journey deepens, so does her commitment to serving God's people. Sandy remains devoted to discerning and fulfilling God's call in her life—serving His flock with humility, compassion, and steadfast love.
